Please permit me to say that on last Sunday the Hon. Dan Munn, of your city. nade one of his flying visits to our Demoratic town. It sonal amblios or rescriberent. by evidence that is incontrovertible. It man that can be trusted—that he is one of the most unworthy men that ever offered for office in Southern Illinois, and the aforesaid Republican editors, unable to disprove a single one of the score of damaging charges we have made, resort to abuse - abuse of the BULLETIN, and like the "used up" men they are, get mad. The Shawnestown Mercury, a violent Radical sheet, expresses the belief that, to prove Dan Munn a corrupt man, and defeat him in the race for Congress, " will injure the Democratic partys" and, of course, to "injure the Democratic party" would be to make the editor of the Mer cury of all men the most miserable! Bah!

in the present nampaign we almost feel for his beiplesaness. And Elder Wright, the pious old editor of the Vienna Artery, tries to rival Dan Munn in the vindictiveness and indecency of his abuse of the BULLETIN. The infuristed old creature, affecting horror over our "blackguardism," employs language satirely too foul and neary for reproduction in any shoet laying any claim whatwith the BULLETIE, but with the Democratic leaders "In and about Calro." The Donahue Affair.

Personal Statement of H. P. Potter, Editor of the Mound City Journal.

Personal.—The nan who wrote the affidavit that purports to have emanated from Donnhue on the 27th inst., and appears in the inst number of the Chird Sas, shoots very wide of the mark. I had no acquaintance with Dushue and did not acquaintance with Dushue and the forts will be given to-day. Large in this respect I believe will go at far voive upon him conscientiously, and that he will not administer an eath to a drunken man I certainly know, and that he did not in the case referred to, the testimeny of unimpenchable witnesses in great abundon the morning following that day, however, I did go out on the Mound City car to accompany Mr. Oberly of Coiro at far as Mounds Junction. In the car a young man introduced himself as Donahue and told his business in town the day previous, and resterated the substance of his affidavit, swearing Munn should be compelled to pay the money he owed him. That interview is all I know of Donahue personally.

As for the affidavit that appears in the last number of the Sun, purporting to have been given on the 27th inst., Donahue denies having made it. He says a party of men did get around him in the woods back of Mounds Junction and attempt to force him into making it, but that, though pressed very hard, he did not, and the men went away without obtaining it. Yet the bogus affidavit appears.
So much for the San's last shot.

PARROULAND OF THE SURREYDER.

SAARBRUCK, October 39.—The surrender of Bazaine fook nobody by surprise. It was cartain ever since the departure of Gen. Boyer. For several preceding days the French pickets were drawn in, and firing entirely cassed. The Germans advanced close to the French lines and talked in a friendly manner with the enemy, occasionally giving the poor and emaciated fellows a portion of their rations. A week ago it was understood that the food in the fortress was so nearly exhausted that the fellows a portion of their rations. A week ago it was understood that the food in the fortress was so nearly exhausted that the men were put on the shortest possible rations. This, saided to the unfavaroble weather and rapid increase of sickness, rendered the army sesperate. A large delegation of the men went to Basaino. They were not insubordinate, but desired to be led out to assault on masse, stating that they preferred to die on the first after than by staryation. Basaine spoke to them kindly and affectionalely, and declaration has been asset that he was ready to die with them asset where. He represented the hopeleaness of doing anything in their present walkened condition, being almost destitute of horses, even if they was through the line. He stated that terms for an honorable explicitation were being considered, and he hopel soon to relieve his brave men from the terrible situation. This quieted the army. But the rules were so relaxed that several bodies went over to the German lines without opposition. They did not mean to be disloyal, but hoped to save themselves from starvation, and chable, those remaining to subsist a few days longer.

On Tuesday it became known that the On Tuesday it became known that the capitulation was about to take place. After the preliminary message, General Changarniere on the part of Barchal Busidine and Major Von Stile, on the part of Prince Frederick Karl, met to argange the surrander, the person which had been upon by King William. Almost character upon by King William. Almost character according preparations were worked of the investing army, and the conding coupling of food to the expitulating forces. This was necessary in prevent the horrow of actual starvation.
